

✓ You finished this assignment

Grade received 80.95%

Go to next item

Coursework 1.2 Submission of the individual reflective piece [001]

Instructions

1. Submit your essay in PDF format.

15 / 19 points

web_development.pdf

✓ Plagiarism not detected

Grading Rubric

1. PDF was uploaded and is readable

☐ 0 points No

☒ 1 point Yes

2. Roles and contributions The division of roles between the team members and the contribution made by each team member.

☐ 0 points This is not addressed.

☐ 1 point Either roles or contributions are described

☒ 2 points Roles and contributions are described.

☐ 3 points Roles and contributions are described and clearly distinct. Roles are described at a good level of abstraction.

3. Your use of HTML and CSS

- Which aspects of HTML and CSS were you able to use well?
- Which aspects do you still feel you need more practice with?
- Which aspects do you feel are particularly powerful and useful?

☐ 0 points This is not addressed

☐ 1 point Heading is addressed with relevant material.

☐ 2 points All 3 questions are somewhat addressed, or 2 are addressed to a high standard.

☒ 3 points Answer perceptively addresses all questions.

4. Positive aspects of your team work experience

- What aspects of team working were positive for you? (for example, did you learn from other team members? Did being able to pool work from various people create a more comprehensive piece of work than one person could have produced?)
- Highlight the aspects of this experience that you most enjoyed.

☐ 0 points Heading is not addressed

☐ 1 point Relevant material is present.

☒ 2 points Both questions are addressed.

☐ 3 points Both questions are addressed in a way that shows clear analytic thought.

5. Negative aspects of your team work experience

- What aspects of team working were challenging for you? (for example, if relevant, the difficulties of communicating across different time zones and maybe even cultures)
- Highlight the aspects of this experience that you enjoyed the least.

☐ 0 points This is not addressed.

☐ 1 point Relevant material is present.

☒ 2 points Both questions are addressed.

☐ 3 points Both questions are addressed in a way that shows clear analytic thought.

6. Effects of team work on the quality of the work

- Did you find that the members of the team contributed well?
- Were there problems within the team that may have affected the quality of the work that was submitted by the team? What was the effect ?

☐ 0 points This is not addressed.

☐ 1 point Relevant material is present.

☐ 2 points All questions addressed (including the effect of the team work, not just the situation that had the effect).

☒ 3 points All questions addressed, with valuable insight into the causes and effects described.

7. Tools you and your team used

- What tools did your team use to help you with your work?
- What tools do you think you should have used but didn't? How would they have helped?

☐ 0 points This is not addressed.

☐ 1 point Relevant material is present

☒ 2 points Questions are answered, but the list of tools is clearly incomplete, or there isn't enough evaluation.

☐ 3 points All questions are answered, and the tool list covers all the activities of the team. Evaluation is good.

How could this answer be improved?

Remember to provide specific, helpful suggestions for improvement. Be polite and constructive, do not criticise the work without suggesting improvements and do not include comments about the person, just the work.

Think carefully about how the learner will take your comments, ensure that they are helpful and not hurtful.

Thank you for submitting your individual reflective piece. It would be best to make a clear distinction between roles and contributions (e.g. role - coordinator, designer). Also, you could have provided concrete examples when discussing the positive/negative aspects of your teamwork experience. You should also highlight the tools you think you should have used but didn't. Nevertheless, it is good to see that you did a good job covering all the essential elements in this coursework.

1500

Grading Rubric

Check word count on the essay matches the stated word count and is between 1350-1650.

☐ 0 points Less than 1200 or more than 1800

☐ 1 point 1200-1350 or 1650-1800

☒ 2 points 1350-1650